WHY DEPOSIT IN HAL ?

- Ensure free and open access to research
- Provide visibility to your research works
Articles submitted are visible in Google and Google Scholar search engines.
- Improve your citation rates
An article submitted to an open archive is cited twice as often as an article not submitted.
- A single entry for :
Calculate your « Research Points »,
Complete your CV in HAL, your ORCID file with your deposits, the HAL collections of IMT-BS and LITEM, the activity reports, the accreditation files of the school, etc.
- Provide legal protection for your research
Protection under copyright law.
- Ensure the durability of your files and access
Perennial unique URL, unlike the academic social networks,
The documents submitted in HAL are archived on the CINES servers.

The screenshot shows the HAL website homepage. The top navigation bar includes the HAL logo, a 'New interface' toggle, an information icon, a language dropdown menu (EN), and a 'Sign in' button. A red circle highlights the 'Sign in' button, with a red arrow pointing to a modal window that appears when it is clicked. The modal window contains the text 'Vous n'avez pas de compte' and a '+ Créer un compte' button. A blue box labeled '1. Change language' points to the language dropdown menu. A blue box labeled '2. Create your HAL account' points to the '+ Créer un compte' button. An orange box labeled '+ Upload' is located in the center of the page. The main content area features the HAL logo and the tagline 'open science' on the left, and the slogan 'Open and share the knowledge' in the center. The bottom of the page has four icons representing different features: a globe, a book with the number 6, a group of people, and a diamond.

01. CREATE YOUR ACCOUNT

The screenshot shows a user profile page titled "My information". On the left is a navigation menu with "My profile" circled in red. The main content area is divided into several sections:

- My information: A form with fields for Family name (LUIZI), Given name (Arnaud), Title (Documentaliste), Login (redacted), E-mail (arnaud.luizi@imtbs-tsp.eu), Userid (redacted), and Photo (a circular profile picture of the Institut Mines-Télécom Business School logo).
- Mes identifiants: A form with fields for Idhal (arnaud-luizi) and Email (arnaud.luizi@imtbs-tsp.eu).
- My affiliations: A list of affiliations including "Laboratoire en Innovation, Technologies, Economie et Management (EA 7363)" and "Département Systèmes d'Information".
- My FTP space: A section indicating there are no files in the space.
- My preferences: A section at the bottom.

Annotations include:

- A red circle around "My profile" in the navigation menu.
- A red arrow pointing from the profile picture field to a purple callout box.
- A blue box with white text: "Complete the fields you wish to change in the my Profile section".
- A purple callout box with white text: "Adding your photo gives the possibility to have it on your searcher CV (optional)".
- Blue edit icons (pencil) in the top right corner of the "My information" and "Mes identifiants" sections.

- HAL is a collaborative database.
Before entering your publication, make sure it isn't already there !

➤ Good to know !

- The library will still check your publications metadata afterwards !
- PDF deposit is recommended to support open science. Before their online publication, the deposited documents are submitted to a moderation of HAL.
- The submission of a simple bibliographic reference, without a file, is always possible.
- In order to guarantee the continuity of access, all full text repositories of your documents are definitive.
You can update your repository by submitting a new version.
The most recent version of your document will be proposed by default for consultation.

English ▾

This study shows that the governance practices of equity crowdfunding platforms contribute to the development of entrepreneurial resources. They act as an interface, structuring the interactions between the actors of entrepreneurial finance (crowd, business angels and venture capital). The authors propose a typology making it possible to characterize four types of platforms mobilizing the cognitive resources of each category of investor in a differentiated manner.

Specific case : theses

- In the context of electronic legal deposit, theses are automatically submitted in HAL by Evry University library. Therefore you should not enter them.
- HAL requests necessarily the attached file for a thesis. Therefore if it does not appear, it means it is either confidential, embargoed, or that the PhD student opposed its online dissemination.

RIGHTS RETENTION STRATEGY

05. RIGHTS RETENTION STRATEGY

To allow immediate open access to your scientific publications by licensing your manuscript under a CC-BY licence.

In this way, your publications are immediately shareable, citable, reusable and archived permanently.

In order to align with the open science policy of financing institutions.

05. RIGHTS RETENTION STRATEGY

Main implementation steps

Apply a CC-BY licence to the different versions of your author accepted manuscript (postprint) upon submission: to be added to all successive versions of the manuscript, up to the last version, which is the one accepted for publication by the publisher.

Inform your publisher that you are applying a CC-BY licence to all successive versions of your manuscript up to the version that will be accepted for publication.

Sign the copyright transfer agreement with the publisher:

- the various versions of your article, up to the version accepted for publication, will be freely licenced.
- Your intellectual property rights will only be assigned to the final version published by the publisher.

Deposit your manuscript in an open archive as soon as it is published:

- As soon as your article is published in the journal, you deposit the postprint in an open archive such as HAL, citing the CC-BY 4.0 licence.
